

Science Squad

Are you interested in space and the wider universe? Do you wonder why penguins' feet don't freeze or whether anything eats wasps? If you do, then you are a scientist and should join the Science Squad! Members of the Science Squad will be given a scientist's lab coat and will be expected to help their teachers in Science lessons either with their scientific knowledge or by helping set up experiments! Science Squad members will also be part of a team that meets every half term and decides on fun and exciting ways we can learn Science in school. This could be by helping to decide what visitors we invite into our Science lessons, what experiments we should give as homework or even help make suggestions.

The Arts' Council

Do you have lots of creative ideas? Would you enjoy improving our school and its classrooms? Could you help widen our children's cultural experiences?

If these questions have whet your creative appetite, then join The Arts Council! Together we will share our creative ideas for the sole purpose of improving the creative life on offer at St Ann's. This includes: helping make our classrooms better for learning, making our school a more creative place to be and supporting the arts education in school, such as making Arts' Week a highlight of the school year.

The Arts' Council is sure to be the most creative team in the school and therefore needs the help of our most creative thinkers. Could that be you?

Unleash the Super Leader inside of you!

What is Super Leaders?

The 'Super Leaders' scheme is our commitment to every child from Year 1 to 6 being a member of a Pupil Leadership Team. The aim of Super Leaders is to develop pu-

A past Year Six pupil says:

'The Super Leaders initiative was great because I got to work with other year groups and adults really closely. We make changes to school that come from our own

When will children find out which team they are on?

Children will find out which team they will be a member of on our Super Leaders Launch Day in Autumn 1.

What are the teams?

There are 19 teams altogether. You can read about the teams in this booklet.

When will teams meet?

Teams will meet at least one afternoon every term and complete activities in between meetings. Some teams may meet more often. Teams will comprise of children from different year

How do I become a member of a team?

To become a member of a team, read about each team within this booklet. Select three teams you would be interested in becoming a member of.

Complete the reply slip at the back of the booklet and return it to the class teacher by Friday 11th October 2019. The staff will use the returned reply slips to place every child on a team. If your reply slip is not returned, you will be placed onto

The Town Troopers Team

Are you a helpful, caring and community-minded person?
Do you like doing things that make you feel good about yourself?
If the answers to these questions is a definite 'yes' then join the 'Town Troopers Team'!
We will be helping the people of Rainhill in various activities that you, the team members, can decide upon. You might want to visit a local elderly home, organise a Food Bank collection or help people pack their bags in the Co-op - you decide!

If I am on the Head Boy/ Girl team or a member of the School Council, will I join another team?
As you will be on the School Council team you will not be on another team. The School Council is its own 'Super Leaders' team.

Communication Crew

Communication is more than just talking to someone. You can write letters, emails, — you could even send a carrier pigeon!

If you want to be on the communication team we can't promise that you will get to send out carrier pigeons but we can promise that you will have fun! The communication team is responsible for sending out tweets from the school to parents, making videos for visitors to watch at the front entrance and will be making a newsletter that will be tweeted out to all our followers.

As part of the communication team you may also get the opportunity to draft, produce and perform a radio show for the school!

The communication team is looking for hard workers who love writing about interesting things.

The Mathemagicians

The Mathemagicians are an exciting team who are looking to recruit children who are passionate and enthusiastic about Maths. Mathemagicians will have an important role within school, buddying up with children from all year groups to help each other with their Maths skills. Mathemagicians may also be called upon by teachers to go to another year group to help the teacher to explain something to their class in a child friendly way! The Mathemagicians will become ambassadors for Maths and share their enthusiasm and passion for Maths with children, staff and visitors of St Ann's.

The Voice of the Child

Are you a kind and caring person who is interested in making a positive contribution to school life?

Do you believe that we should always offer our smile to someone who has lost theirs? Would you like to bring sunshine back into someone's life who was feeling sad or lonely? Would you like to celebrate what makes us all different and all equal? This team does! Let's lend a helping hand

Peer Listeners

Are you helpful, caring and a good listener? Do you like to find solutions to problems? Can you work as part of a team? Would you like to learn new skills?

If the answer to these questions is yes, then why don't you join The Peer Listener's Team?

The Health and Safety Team

Are you confident, imaginative and enthusiastic? Do you want to make a difference and improve the safety of our school and local community? Would you like to attend community events to train as a Junior Road Safety Officer? We will run various activities, thought up and organised by yourselves, which will bring more awareness to the health and safety of children

The Incredible Years Team

As part of The Incredible Years team, you will work closely with the Foundation Stage staff. You will help Reception-age children learn about learning through play and help the younger children to achieve their potential. The FS staff will also hear your views on how activity areas might be set up, which games might be played and any other changes to provision that you think we could make.

The Eco Warriors

The Eco Warriors have a very important job within St Ann's. Over the year we will make sure that everyone knows how important it is to recycle and to save energy. We will encourage good habits for the future, and will inform our school community to protect the world around us. We will have lots of fun exploring current issues and thinking of ways to keep our school and the grounds around it green and clean.

To be an Eco Warrior, you should be passionate about the world we live in and full of ideas to help make the

Amazing Allotment Team

Come and join the 'Amazing Allotment Team' where you will get the opportunity to grow flowers, fruit and vegetables. As you already know, these need looking after on a regular basis which means, yes you've guessed it, time out of class! Once the fruit and vegetables are ready you will sell them on a stall to other parents and children. This is a special place for children and adults to go to at St Ann's so I need helpful, caring children in this team!

Digital Leaders

Digital Leaders are students who are adept at using technology and are willing to share their knowledge and skills with others.

Through working with staff, peers and school leaders, Digital Leaders are able to help shape how technology is used in and outside of the classroom... they may even de-

The Centre Stage Squad

On this team, you will experience the excitement of Drama and all it has to offer. We will look at organising school events, making improvements to St Ann's Has Got Talent or the Year Six production. We will look at many aspects of Drama, from set design to lighting and everything in between to make sure that Performing Arts at

Wellbeing Warriors

Would you like to join a supportive, encouraging and positive community?

Would you like to learn how to stay healthy and enhance your wellbeing?

The Wellbeing Warriors play an important role in promoting the health and well-being of children at the school. We would like to find out YOUR views and experiences so that we can work together to provide activities and clubs that are enjoyable and encourage others to follow a healthy lifestyle.

English Ambassadors

Do you love English in general? Are you passionate about reading, storytelling, story writing... even grammar and spelling?!

If this sounds like you, come and join the English Ambassadors!

This team will help to choose new books for school, make recommendations for others, write and tell stories, organise spelling competitions and even organise events such as Harry Potter Book Night and World Book Day.

If this sounds like something which is up your street, we would love to have you on our team!

Values Ambassadors

Calling all caring, kind and thoughtful people!

St Ann's values Ambassadors is right for YOU!

Join us if you're interested in working together to keep our Christian values at the very heart of our school. We'll be involved in assemblies and worship, visits to church, creating displays around school and helping to organise a whole range of exciting events, such as R.E. week activities and Parent and Child Workshops. We will also be showing visitors around our wonderful school.

Your ideas are important to us - so join the values Ambassadors!

Sports' Council

Are you passionate about PE and school sport? Do you participate in clubs and competitions inside and outside of school? Would you like the opportunity to lead, manage and officiate school sport?

The Sports Council play an important role in promoting the profile of PE at the school. We would like to listen to your ideas and experiences so that we can work together to provide activities, clubs and competitions that are enjoyable, inclusive for all and encourage others to be physically active in
